University of Melbourne Girls' Programming Network Term 1 for Students in Year 8+

Organisation: University of Melbourne

Location: OLD ENGINEERING SCHOOL (BUILDING 173) at the University of Melbourne, Parkville Campus

Date: March 21, 2026

This workshop is for high school students (Year 8 onwards). In this workshop we'll be looking at Markov chains, which are a great introduction to Artificial Intelligence! We'll make a program that can create new sentences based on books, song lyrics or anything you want! This project is very similar to the programming in your phone that tries to suggest the next word you want to write in your text messages, and can be used for all kinds of fun things like writing the next Taylor Swift song or the long awaited "Green Eggs and Ham" sequel!

PRICE

This event is totally free! We're providing a day of coding, snacks, and fun for everyone. If you can't make it after registering, please cancel your ticket. We have a long waiting list, and it's super important that you let us know if you can't attend.

LOCATION

CATERING

We'll be serving up some delicious pizza for lunch, along with fruit, chocolate, and lollies to keep you going throughout the day. We can accommodate vegetarians as well as lactose and gluten intolerances. If you have any other dietary needs, you'll need to bring your own food. Make sure to pack a lunch that doesn't need to be refrigerated.

Remember to bring a water bottle to stay hydrated - water taps are available around the building.

What do you need to bring to the workshop?

Just bring yourself!

You don't need to bring a printed ticket, or a tablet/laptop or any other device with you on the day of the event.

Simply come along ready to learn lots and have fun while coding some cool stuff!

A UniMelb account is required to register for this event.

After clicking the 'Register now' button you'll have the option to log in or create a new account.
